

Matt Schwartz, CASA Technical Committee

President and CEO | California Housing Partnership

As President and CEO of the California Housing Partnership, Matt Schwartz plays a leadership role in shaping housing-related legislation and regulations to expand the resources to preserve and create affordable housing for the state’s lowest income residents. In recognition of this work, the Southern California Association of NonProfit Housing named Mr. Schwartz the 2010 Advocate of the Year and the NonProfit Housing Association of Northern California gave Mr. Schwartz its Inspirational Leader Award for 2013.

Mr. Schwartz received a bachelor’s degree from Stanford University and a master’s degree in Public Policy from Harvard’s Kennedy School of Government. He is also a recipient of Harvard’s Robert F. Kennedy Award for Public Service and Stanford’s Lloyd W. Dinkelspiel Award for Outstanding Public Service.

The California Housing Partnership Corporation is a private nonprofit organization dedicated to helping government and nonprofit housing agencies preserve and expand the supply of affordable homes for lower-income households throughout California.

Since its incorporation in 1988, CHPC has helped its partners create and preserve more than 50,000 affordable homes in California and has provided training and technical assistance to more than 15,000 individuals.
